JACK ATKIN'S GAME FINISH.

WINS THE MOUNT VERNON HANDICAP IN A TREMENDOUS DRIVE WITH TILEING.

Wise Mason Goes Three-Quarters in Fast Time—

Bad News Adds to His String of Victories

—Police Active at Yonkers.

New York, August 19.—The famous Jack Atkin was the one dominant factor in the Mount Vernon Handicap at Yonkers today. Barney Schreiber's great weight-carrier picked up 132 pounds and defeated five lightly weighted opponents for the big feature, notwithstanding jockey Joe Notter's faulty horsemanship during the early stages of the race. The astonished owner of the favorite saw him literally pulled off his stride and relinquish a safe lead on the backstretch. This injudicious move caused the big horse to be placed on the inside of Woodhams during the second quarter of the running and, until he drew out on the turn for home and established a lead of nearly two lengths in the stretch, the result seemed to be in serious doubt. A little further on, about the time the 3,000 spectators present had settled themselves down to see just how a really good horse could dispose of his opponents, Tiling suddenly loomed up in uncomfortably close pursuit of the leader and with a few quick strides got alongside. It was at this critical juncture that both horse and rider rose magnificently to the occasion. In the tremendous effort to ward off defeat that followed, the pair distinguished themselves by both gameness and horsemanship such as is not often witnessed on a race course. Jack Atkin's brilliantly achieved victory was greeted with tremendous enthusiasm. Barney Schreiber, who today saw his wonderful horse returned a winner for the first time since he became a turf celebrity, was so overjoyed that he could hardly acknowledge his thanks for the numerous congratulations tendered him.

Mr. James Butler said that he was not sure but what Jack Atkin was the best race horse he had ever seen, and at all events he was the best thoroughbred that had ever raced over the Yonkers track.

Andrew Miller was also congratulated by Mr. Butler on his first success over his track with Wise Mason in the opening dash for two-year-olds. Today's race of the half-brother to the famous McChesney was an unexpected vindication of his earlier losses, which had been rudely disturbed by the ignominious defeat he sustained in his preceding start.

In the mile and a quarter race that followed, Bad News started the shortest-priced favorite, at 1 to 6, of the present meeting and the Bradley horse experienced no difficulty in making good over the very inferior opposition in against him. The second two-year-old race was captured by Fashion Plate, which was also at odds-on.

Robert Cooper, running under a powerful stimulant in the shape of heavy backing, upset another contemplated coup on Monday by winning the second race from that inconsistent racer. Notwithstanding Robert Cooper's pronounced aversion for a muddy track, he was regularly raced in colors and scored many failures at Saratoga when seriously handicapped by the going. Those tactics enabled the manipulator to get as good as 8 to 1 against the Pessara three-year-old. Lee went at Robert Cooper with whip and spur in such savage fashion that experts declared such tactics invited certain defeat ultimately. These premature predictions failed of vindication for the horse stuck to his work with bulldog tenacity and won with any amount up his sleeve. For an alleged sulker Robert Cooper took his medicine with ideal composure.

Don Enrique outclassed his opponents in the last race, and it was well for his backers that he did so, for apprentice Upton seemed to be heading for Mr. Vernon on the stretch turn. The Dubois gelding went to the course, however, and nation and nation betters in the last furlong as if they were anchored.

That District Attorney Winslow meant what he said when he announced yesterday that the anti-betting law would be enforced with renewed vigor was shown by the big number of arrests made at Yonkers this afternoon. Ever since the present law has been in operation it has been the practice to settle the business of the previous day before the race, but today the police appeared on the scene and proceeded to arrest men handling money indiscriminately. The arrested men were soon liberated, however. There were several arrests made after the police getting busy at precisely 4 p. m., when they took Stephen Sherman, W. Klouber, Leon Cohen and Fred Adler into custody on warrants signed by Judge Bell of Westchester. Isidor Bismarck, A. L. Kalpen and Hyman Waxman were also arrested. Each of the seven prisoners were charged with bookmaking. Mr. Butler, in speaking of these occurrences, said:

"Anyone who can't come to the race track and enjoy the race without breaking the law should stay away. There is no use of butting our heads against a stone wall. If we can't carry on racing under the law we might as well close up. We must do the best we can this year and worry through with it until the law is changed."

Mr. Butler said that he was perfectly in accord with Mr. Winslow, especially in regard to arrests for infractions of the Hart-Agnew law. "The Empire City Association will aid the district attorney in every way possible," said Mr. Butler. "To maintain order and live up to the letter of the law in every particular. All I want is to hold a race meeting under the conditions the law dictates, and if any one defies it, it is his own lookout. Racing can go on in a respectable manner and I think it will be much elevated under the present law."

Stable quarters have been reserved for John E. Madden at the Yonkers track. His arrival with a big stable of horses is expected on Friday. Reports of sensational trials by King James are in circulation. Some experts predict a victory for the crack three-year-old in the big Yonkers feature next Saturday.

Messrs. Miller and Earlocker were engaged nearly the whole of the afternoon in settling up with horsemen who raced at the recent Saratoga meeting. It is said that every dollar of indebtedness incurred by the Saratoga Association was paid before they finished their labors.

Charles Edward, the sensational record breaker of the Brighton summer meeting of 1907, became very lame after an injury and an eighth trial over the Yonkers track today. The horse worked fast and seemed to pull up sound enough. It was found he would not cool out readily afterward, however, and finally showed such pronounced weakness on his off fore leg that he had to be stopped in his walking exercise. It is thought that the breakdown is complete and that Charles Edward will never be able to race again.

Barney Schreiber will wait over until next Saturday to see Jack Atkin run in the big $15,000 Empire City stake before leaving for the west. He will hold a conference at Buffalo with Joseph A. Murphy next Sunday regarding the new race meet prospect for St. Louis. Mr. Schreiber said that there were a number of good people interested in the proposed meeting and he had reason to believe that it would meet with success.

WHY THE LAYERS ARE HARRIED.

Explaining the activity of his force at Yonkers, Chief of Police Wolff says that the orders to his men were to enforce Judge Gaylor's interpretation of the law, and this was the cause of the constant interruption of conversations where well-known layers were concerned, the supposition being that in such instances propositions to wager were being considered.

BISCHOFF DECISION BROADER THAN LAW.

Senator John Raines Makes a Notable Declaration—Personal Liberty League Grows.

Senator John Raines, of New York, more representative of the Republican party of the Empire state than is Governor Hughes or his henchmen, recently talked of the racing law and crusade. Senator Raines says he considers Judge Bischoff's decision of the betting law much broader than the law itself. As he understood it, and as he had explained in his argument in favor of the bill, it permitted two persons to make a wager, but it would become illegal if the bet was recorded by a third person, and all three would be liable. But, as he understood the judge's decision, the third person must be a professional bookmaker before the law becomes operative. This he did not believe was the intent of the law.

"At the Saratoga mass meeting of the Personal Liberty League, Judge Gelsman, a strong man of that section, declared that the movement was devoid of all political aspects; that the league represented no party, but was instituted for the purpose of advocating personal liberty. He claims a membership of 35,000 for the league in the state. He strongly denounced the partisanship which he declared had been exhibited by Governor Hughes. Judge McMahon returned to the governor as an 'intruder and interloper in politics.'"

Philip Mahar said that the race track question should have been left to the voters to decide.

"Whereas, the tendency on the part of the legislators to respond to the insensate, unreasonable and unwarranted demands of a small coterie of men ostentatiously parading their self-constituted right, consensus but enacting laws of a tyrannous, oppressive, undemocratic nature, known as summary laws or blue laws, subversive of the personal rights, liberties and happiness of the people, and oppose to the constitutional provisions vouchsafing the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and

"Whereas, Most of these men spreading the propaganda of tyranny and oppression by emotional hysteria are swayed by ulterior motives of a most reprehensible and pernicious nature, some of them whitened sepulchers, exponents of tax evasion, fraud, and citizenship, Pharisees, bigots, intolerant of the most deplorable crime, while others, fanatics and frenzied enthusiasts seeking publicity and cheap notoriety, be it

"Resolved, That no man should receive the vote or approval of the electorate for the Assembly or the Senate of the Legislature of the state of New York, who does not promise to exert himself to the utmost for the repeal of the same, and to vote in favor of the statute books, and who will not to the extent of his ability and power oppose the enactment of any further law tending to restrict, repress and diminish the rights of the privileges, rights and powers of the people."

A second mass meeting is to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York, two weeks hence.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., FOR WINTER RACING.

H. D. Brown, restless as a promoter of race tracks, is now booming New York for $200,000 and a race course and Jockey Club at Jacksonville, Fla., a big town and one of the fastest growing cities in good hands. Brown gets into print about Jacksonville and its advantages in this way:

"I have made a thorough investigation of the situation at Jacksonville and find it admirably suited for a winter racing point. The town of Jacksonville is in no legal restriction on racing and betting in Florida. That, of course, is absolutely essential to the success of the project, and it can be relied upon to continue at present. A fair association at that point has a charter which is a contract with the state for the term of seventy-seven years."

"This permits racing and betting and there could be nothing to prevent the holding of a race meeting here of long duration, beginning with the winter state fair early in the fall. My own idea would be to hold a bona fide state fair and a great one, with valuable premiums, and, in addition, racing, with valuable prizes and stakes that would attract good horses. The town of Jacksonville is eager for racing and will take half the stock in the plant. The location could not be improved upon and I am positive the venture would be a great success."

Here, however, comes a proposition that ought to appeal to horsemen. There are the ones most interested in the continuance of winter racing in the south, and they should go to the front and take an active part in making the Jacksonville project a reality. With the town of Jacksonville taking half the stock in the enterprise the horsemen should be willing to furnish the other half, when the alternative of sitting idle throughout a long winter, feeding and caring for thoroughbreds that cannot race is considered.

THE DEFENSE OF SHERIFF BRADLEY.

Sheriff Bradley of Saratoga, in his answer to Governor Hughes' charges for alleged failure to enforce the law against betting, declares that he has enforced the law as he understands it to the best of his information and ability. He has been advised by counsel that the law cannot make a rest for a violation of section 351 of the penal code except when the offense is committed in his presence unless a warrant has been placed in his hands for service. No such warrant has been given to him, he adds, nor has a violation of the law been committed in his presence, or so far as he has been able to learn, in the presence of his deputies.

Attached to and made a part of the reply is the written opinion of Senator Edgar T. Brackett of Saratoga, along whose advice the sheriff has shaped his course. Senator Brackett reviews the anti-race track gambling law, pointing out that it is the sheriff's duty to arrest any person violating the specific provisions of that statute. The attorney adds: "But I understand that the question that chiefly embarrasses us is whether you or your deputies, hearing oral bets made between individuals, there being no record made of the same nor any money received by the state, are to make a bet on your duty as the sheriff to arrest the persons thus betting as violating the present law."

"I have given this question a careful examination and I am bound to and do advise you that as the law stands, as construed by the courts, such betting is not a crime and you have no authority to arrest therefor."

LEADING FUTURITY CANDIDATES' WEIGHTS.

New York, August 19.—Helmet's victory in the Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga last Saturday penalizes him four pounds in the Futurity, but as he receives three pounds breeding allowance, the colt's weight will be 123 pounds. Mr. Keene's other candidates are Wedding Bells, 119; Maskette, 118; Footpad, 117 and Affliction, 114. Mr. Whitney's candidates will be Persens, 117, and Bobbin, 122. Mr. Madden's will be Sir Martin, 127; Fayette, 127, and possibly Lady Bedford, 116.

John E. Madden was not surprised by the result of the Hopeful. "I had," said he, "been told that no horse in the world could outrun Mr. Keene's colt and I was prepared to see him tipple his field, which he did. He will now have to take up weight, like all good performers, and when he next starts we will get a true test of his true quality. He is a colt of wonderful speed anyway, and may be a phenomenon. He certainly can run fast, and if he can pack imposters that all stake winners have to carry and still display the speed he did Saturday, he will be a sensational race horse. What my colts did pleased me. They did not win or finish second, but they carried their heavy weights like good colts. The weight steadied them. Weight is a great equalizer of horses. That colt of Mr. Whitney's, Persens, that finished second, is worth noticing. He was favored with fifteen pounds against mine, but any colt they fail to beat with even that difference, will be found to be a horse of more than average class."

NIMBUS' NEW RECORD AT SIX FURLONGS.

Notable Performances at the Distance in This Country and in England.

When Nimbus ran three-quarters of a mile in 1:14 at Conkers he broke a triple tie, in which Colonel Bob and Tommie jointly held the record for three-quarters around turns in 1:14. Some day a fast horse, favored by conditions and under pressure all the way, will pass over the 1:11 mark. When Dick Welles set the record at 1:11 at Washington Park in 1903, he showed that 1:11 can be surmounted by a horse of great speed. On that occasion he was left at the post and was separately timed by a number of experienced timers, none of whom made his time slower than 1:10.5 and two caught it at 1:10.2. Unquestionably Roschen could have done as well, or better, when in his prime.

Nimbus is a fast young horse and is to be given credit for his surpassing race. Tom McGrath brought about the breaking of the record by his amazing feat of running the first half in 43.2 seconds. It is all the more to Nimbus' credit that he could follow such incredible pacemaking and then go on and win. Under the careful and intelligent training of his new owner, George Odum, he should gather additional distinction.

The correspondents and writers dealing with the Empire City racing seem to overlook the fact that running was being held at that track in 1900, at which some swift running was done. No exact three-quarters was run then because the configuration of the course was unfavorable. But Chucatanunda and Musette covered an "about" three-quarters, 1:15 feet short, in 1:08.2. Perhaps the most notable achievement at that meeting was the defeat of Imp by the fast selling plater, Charentis, at a mile and a quarter, in 2:04, the fastest mile and a quarter run up to that time, and which stood as the record until Gold Devils ran the distance in 2:03.1 at Brighton Beach, July 5, 1902. The scribes in question would do well to examine the records of that meeting when occasions for comparisons arise. A chute has been made at Empire City, from which starts are now effected in races of three-quarters. In running the starts and finishes are slightly descending, and favorable to fast records at the distance.

The English record for three-quarters of a mile on the straight turf course of Epsom Downs, 1:07.4, is held by Master Willie, five years old, 122 pounds, June 6, 1901. Master Willie was an excessively fast horse then, five years old, by St. David, out of Fraulein, was ridden by F. Rickaby, and owned by Mr. F. Stokes. The record was made in the race for the Royal Stakes the day after Mr. W. C. Whitney's leased horse, Volodyovski, had won the Epsom Derby.

The nearest to the English record is Artful's 1:08, with 120 pounds up, over the Morris Park six furlongs straightaway. Artful was a two-year-old and made the record October 15, 1904, in winning the Erie Plains Handicap from Dandelion, Glorifier and four others.

Master Willie's great speed is shown by his English five-furlongs record of 56.2, made over the same grass straight course at Epsom two years later. This record was made in the Great Surrey Handicap at Epsom, April 21, 1903, when, with 133 pounds up, Master Willie won by a length from Duke of Magenta, La Lune and a fast lot. This record is but a trifle faster than Maid Marian's 56.1, also over the same course, which she made in 1904. In 1904, under Lennie Clayton, she beat Hugh Penny, Iola, Patricia, Hurlingham and Bellicoso.

FUTURE OF SARATOGA AND BRIGHTON BEACH

During the closing days of the Saratoga meeting it was declared by persons who know that the management would not have been served on them of six weeks. No official would confirm this, but it is known that should the racing situation clear up, there will be a return to at least the old schedule of twenty-four or twenty-five days' racing. This might mean the wiping out of one of the tracks of the metropolitan circuit. To further strengthen this rumor it was learned during the afternoon that one of the New York tracks (Brighton Beach) made good its case for the summer season and it is possible that the track referred to does not contemplate continuing.

The members of the Jockey Club here could not make any statement as to the exact conditions of the future, for the formal notice has been served on them of the delinquency, and unless the matter was brought before them officially, they were not in a position to discuss the matter.

In racing circles of late it has been discussed as a strong probability that there will be no racing at Brighton Beach next year, for one of several reasons. One story is that the track may be sold and not utilized for racing, because it is too valuable here and being with its family might help him. Another story is that some of the leading spirits in the Jockey Club would be glad to see Brighton Beach pass out of existence, which would make the way clear for Saratoga and Empire City.

Still another rumor is that when Anthony N. Brady returns from Europe the directors of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit may take steps to take the Brighton Beach property and continue to use it for racing.

AMERICAN JOCKEYS PROSPER IN EUROPE.

San Francisco, Cal., August 19.—Jockey Eddie Jones, who began his career on the California tracks, returned from Belgium Tuesday last, and was a recent visitor at the Oakland track. Two years ago Jones was thrown from a horse on a Belgium track and later paralysis of the right leg developed. He has been unable to ride since and physicians advised him to return home in the hope that the climate here and being with his family might help him. Jones plans to secure some horses and train them. Should he recover he may return to Belgium, where he has an opportunity to ride. Three days before he received the fall he was offered $6,000 to ride for a stable on the Belgium tracks.

Jones reports that Winnie O'Connor, Johnny Reiff and Henry Spencer are doing well in Germany. At Ostend, Nash Turner won a $10,000 match race with horse he trains. Milton Henry rode for him, making the event have quite an American flavor. "Skeets" Martin and Danny Maher were also at the Ostend meeting in July. Patsy Freeman is training a stable in France and Johnny Campbell is also handling a string there with considerable success. Frank Duffy is riding both on the flat and over the jumps in France.

MILT YOUNG'S COMFORTABLE PHILOSOPHY.

After selling McGrathiana, Milt Young said that if conditions in the future would justify it, he might start anew in the thoroughbred breeding business.

"I think," said he, "I will just take things easy for a while and see what happens to Governor McGraw of New York, who, more than any other man in the world, is responsible for the disruption of my business and the sale of the place upon which I have lived happily with my family for a quarter of a century."

The Messrs. Beasley, who bought the farm, are bachelors who have made fortunes in farming.

SENORITA STUD ANIMALS ALL TO BE SOLD.

Lexington, Ky., August 19.—Captain W. Harry Brown, of Pittsburg, announces his intention of retiring from the breeding of thoroughbred horses. Captain Brown took up the venture at the death of his brother, Captain S. S. Brown, and his Senorita Stud is equipped with many famous horses. He has ordered his yearlings sent to Sheepshead Bay for sale, but has not yet completed arrangements for the sale of his stallions and broodmares.

IMPROVING AT FORT ERIE.

DRYING-OUT TRACK AND GOOD HORSES IN ACTION INCREASE ATTENDANCE.

Dennis Stafford Victor in the Sprint—Terah Defeats

Goes Fast and Cave Adsum—Five

Favorites Fail.

Buffalo, N. Y., August 19.—There was a decided improvement in the attendance and racing at Fort Erie today, fine weather and a well-arranged card, in which some good horses met, being chiefly responsible for the improvement. The track, while still drying out from the severe drenching it was subjected to, had firm footing and in one instance fast time was recorded.

Favorites were again downed, five of the seven failing their backers. The steeplechase over the short course was a hard-fought race and resulted in a victory for the well-ridden Woodside. McClain, his rider, allowed him to trail during the early running, and timing his challenge carefully, wore Awawegang and Economy down when nearing the last hedge and won going away. Awawegang, a new beginner at jumping, showed much the most speed for the first turn of the course, and by his fast pace caused Lights Out to fall at the seventh jump. He was also instrumental in causing McAlister's defeat. The latter attempted to keep pace with him over the first six hedges, but found the task too difficult and tired badly when called on. Awawegang will, after a few more lessons, be a formidable opponent to the cross-country racers in these parts.

The six furlong sprint, in which some good short-distance racers met, went to Dennis Stafford, which Nugent Bros. recently purchased from Burlew & O'Neill. He was much the best in the race and proved it by running out on the stretch turn and coming on to a victory over Superstition. Just as the barrier was released Melange, ridden by S. Flynn, stumbled and unseated the rider and then fell over him. Flynn was badly injured about the face. The rider had recently been suspended by the judges from riding here on account of his timidity, but the officials had modified their ruling and allowed him to accept mounts from his contract employer, Myron McHenry.

The Corrigan stable furnished the first three beaten favorites. Anne McGee, which has been showing good form in recent starts was an overwhelming favorite for the opener and she was downed handily by L. A. Cella's Arionette and Gladys Louise. McAlister, in the jumping race, was never formidable. In the third race, another two-year-old dash, Elizabeth Harwood was well supported, but again the Corrigan followers were disappointed, as L. A. Cella's Irigator came away to an easy victory. Coattutter taking second place in the final strides from Elizabeth Harwood.

The closing race went to Terah, Goes Fast beating Cave Adsum, the favorite, for second place. T. C. McDowell added another purse when his Mirth won the sixth race in handy style after leading all the way.

The horses raced here by T. F. Coles, W. Jennings and H. Mosby will be shipped tomorrow to Montreal to be rested until the Blue Bonnets meeting opens.

R. L. Miller, M. Buchanan, M. C. Ricketts, J. Johnston and J. Farrell, Jr., will send their horses to Richmond tomorrow for the United Hunts Club meeting that begins at Philbrook next week.

On account of most of his horses being disqualified for having raced at Jamestown last season, H. Flippin will have to forego shipping to Montreal and Toronto. He will campaign in Virginia at Roanoke, Richmond and Lynchburg.

Judge Joseph A. Murphy has been tendered the honor of presiding judge at the coming James-town and San Antonio meetings. He will serve. He will make an effort to be on hand at the Austin, Texas, meeting.

LATONIA AND FALL MEETING PROSPECTS.

"What about Latonia? That's the question horsemen want answered," says the Cincinnati Enquirer. "The time is near at hand for the announcement of fall dates, and the sooner the management make known their determination to race or not to race, the better it will be for the poor horsemen. There still hangs a fall meeting at Louisville and also at Lexington, and it would be interesting to know whether Latonia is to follow the Falls City, start in ahead of the meeting there, or have the men behind the Kenton county course decided not to take any more chances on a losing venture, and keep the plant closed down for the rest of the season."

Last week there was a very interesting story going the rounds that Cincinnati capital would likely buy out the Louis A. Cella holdings in the Latonia race track. The rumor was so strong that the interest would be in the hands of Cincinnati and Covington business men. This sounded very good, as did also the story that the meeting at the over-the-river course would last sixty days in view of the uncertainty of the situation in New Orleans.

"If racing can be put on a paying basis at Latonia, a sixty-day meeting would put the horse owners in good humor. They see nothing but hard times in sight for them for the cold months approach on the calendar, and if Latonia will come out with the announcement that there is to be a long meeting at the course this fall, it will certainly be joyous news to the men who have to depend on their horses for a living."

"The one thing that is puzzling everybody is the course the Latonia management will pursue in the matter of betting. The mutuels were an awful failure last spring. There is every reason to believe they would again be a failure if put back in operation. From this the conclusion is reached that Latonia will race, perhaps, sixty days, and the betting will be done in the books or not at all."

NEW ORLEANS MERRY-GO-ROUND READY.

New Orleans, La., August 19.—Two thousand dollars having been raised as a test fund to operate racing under the anti-betting laws recently enacted by the legislature, the gates of Suburban Park, a local half-mile track, will be thrown open next Saturday, according to an official announcement of the Horsemen's Matinee Racing Club. The gate receipts, it is declared, will be the only source of revenue.

According to promoters who have been identified with former operations at half-mile courses it is learned that a new method of making wagers is to be tried.

It is certain that the new venture will bring out a test of the Lock law and enable the big tracks to know where they stand on the subject of winter racing.

CHULITA, CRIPPLED, TO BE RETIRED.

Cincinnati, O., August 19.—Chulita, the bay three-year-old filly, owned by Colonel A. S. Labold, of this city, has broken down and will be retired to the stud. She was a particular favorite with the Cincinnati race-goers and Fleischmann Trophy and Latonia Oaks. Her breakdown was largely due to the accident that happened in the race for the Oaks, when she was crowded into the fence and almost thrown. A likament was wrenched and she steadily grew worse and she pulled up hopelessly broken down after a gallop the other day. So, once again, Colonel Labold is without a stable, as Chulita was the only one to carry his colors this year.

 Went to post at 3:06. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second and third driving. Woodside was under slight restraint for the first turn of the field and moved up with a rush in the second time around, stumbled on landing at the last jump, but recovered quickly and drew away into an easy lead at the end. Economy, a keen contender for the entire trip, was well ridden and met with no mishaps. Awawegang showed a great flight of early speed, but fired when going to the eighth jump, then came again at the end, but could not get to the leaders. Little Wally was repeatedly interfered with. Lights Out lost his rider at the eleventh jump. McAllister quit.
